At Bloomfield Road last Tuesday, the Wanderers again had an encouraging following to swell the attendance. The team battled well to hold the Seasiders and this result can be considered as a point gained rather than one lost.

WELCOME TO OUR VISITORS

BURNLEY

TONIGHT we welcome our friends from Turf Moor. Last season, like ourselves Burnley suffered a nailbiting experience and their last game of the season was so crucial that every football fan in the land had a keen interest on the outcome and there was a sigh of relief come the final whistle. However that is now history and a brand new season is in store and like ourselves they will be out to make sure that history doesn't repeat itself. No nonsense Brian Miller has been largely responsible for Burnley's survival. He was also in charge of the Club before the controversial John Bond moved in with his big signings. Brian is once again putting his belief in young talent and during the summer has begun the rebuilding process. Many new faces have arrived including George O'Ghani who will be out to impress tonight. Another ex-Wanderer, Ray Deakin is also on the staff. In last Saturday's opener in the Lancs. Manx Cup, the Clarets entertained Blackpool and suffered a 2-0 defeat, but last Tuesday they bounced back to score a 2-1 victory over Blackburn Rovers. There is still all to play for in Group 'A', the eventual winner will progress into the Final next week with the winner of Group 'B' to decide the outcome of the 1987 Lancashire Manx Cup. Whatever the outcome tonight we shall be meeting up with Burnley again once the season commences.

CLUB NEWS

During the close season 'keeper DAVE FELGATE kept alert by helping out in the Club's Commercial Department. When approached Commercial Manager Mr. Alf. Davies was only too pleased to grant David permission. The popular player said, " Now I know a little bit about the daily working off the field and I have enjoyed it selling Club advertising and sponsorship etc."

Many school students have been taking 'Work experience courses at various Company's this year. The 15 year olds still have one year left to serve at school and the scheme gives them an insight to working life. Bolton Wanderers have played their part and two students from Mount St. Joseph's went away with some knowledge of the Club's commercial activities. We hope this will prove to be beneficial for the future.

Next season will see the introduction of a new Match Day Programme. Called 'BOLTON TODAY' it will consist of 32 pages, an increase of 12 pages on last season's issue. It is to be action packed with special features about the Club and football in general. Each week there is a 'Guest Spot' page and the first one is an exclusive interview with former Wanderer, Jimmy Phillips talking about life with Glasgow Rangers. In addition there is a short quiz on the visitors, Spotlight on a different player each week. Corresponding with the Football League Centenary Year it will be a collector item and furthermore it will be the first and last associating Bolton Wanderers in the Fourth Division - because we're on our way back UP. The magazine will be exceptional value at last seasons price of 60p.
